Decision of the Security Council on Hijacking. The President of the Security Council announces that the members of the Security Council adopted on June 20, 1972 by consensus the following decision:

"(1) Members of the Security Council are gravely concerned at the threat to the lives of passengers and crews arising from the hijacking of aircraft and other unlawful interference with international civil aviation. In these circumstances, they wish to reaffirm Security Council Resolution 286 (1970) of 9 September 1970 and to recall that General Assembly has expressed its deep concern about the situation.
"(2) Members of the Security Council condemn and consider it necessary to put an end to acts that are directed against the safety of civil aviation and that are being perpetrated in various parts of the world presenting serious obstacles to normal use of air transportation, an important means of international intercourse.

"(3) The Security Council calls upon States to take all appropriate measures within their jurisdiction to deter and prevent such acts and to take effective measures to deal with those who commit such acts.

"(4) The Security Council invites all States to expand and intensify cooperative international efforts and measures in this field, in conformity with charter obligations, with a view to ensuring maximum possible safety and reliability of international civil aviation. UNQUOTE.
